

Moving the Medicine of Dreams with Penny Allport

Moving the Medicine of Dreams is an invitation to engage with the dreamtime through harvesting image, gesture and medicine delivered in the night dreams of our life.

Moving the Medicine of Dreams is a practice to restore the primacy of the imagination to the process of being whole, healthy and embodied human beings, and to collectively evolve fresh possibilities, as we shed the skin of outdated forms of relationship with the mystery of life.

Any dream snippet is gratefully welcomed and received.

Dreaming in a collective offers rich and surprising medicine to emerge through the field of shared dreamers in community.
